About our Opportunity

As our Cabinet Vision Delivery Manager, you're an integral team member, supporting new designers with initial Cabinet Vision training and continually coaching and mentoring our designers and production planners by offering weekly training. You will work closely with our Sales Representatives and with your expertise you will support by providing design advice, generate wardrobe visuals from sketches and estimating support. You will also be responsible for ensuring the Cabinet Vision database is maintained and upgraded as new products are added to our product line.

This role also offers scope to influence cabinetry product development and you will have the opportunity to be involved in 2-3 special projects each year with our marketing team for new products.

About You

We're looking to leverage your trade background, extensive cabinet making / shop fitting practical experience in production and installation is a must, along with trade qualification in cabinet making. You need to have a collaborative communication style; you need to have the ability to connect with a range of people at different levels and the capacity to work well across all stakeholder groups to provide training and support to varying Cabinet Vision competency levels.

You will have:

- excellent communication skills with the ability to build rapport quickly
- strong administrative skills with accurate attention to detail and organisational skills
- high level of competency in utilising Cabinet Vision
- SolidWorks, advantageous if no previous Cabinet Vision exposure
- ability to travel interstate when required to deliver workshops

What's on Offer

- flexible working arrangements - ability to schedule 2 days a week working from home
- on-site parking at our state of the art site
- ongoing training and career development
- generous discounts on our extensive range of JELD-WEN products
- ability to schedule leave every year at Christmas

Your Next Steps

If you believe you can add value to a market leading business and support the team with your extensive knowledge, apply now!
